DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Olson, et al. (5,324,072).

Olson teaches a side airbag comprising an inflatable bag having a shoulder-receiving portion 34 and a thorax-receiving portion 36 wherein the inflatable bag is moveable between a deflated configuration and an inflated configuration. The thorax-receiving portion is sized thinner than the shoulder-receiving portion in a lateral direction when the inflatable bag is disposed in the inflated configuration. Olson teaches a crash sensor 48 coupled to an inflation device 20.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 2-16 and 18-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Olson, et al. (5,324,072) in view of Ono (5,797,621).

Olson teaches the claimed invention except for a seam thread. Ono teaches an airbag configuration for a side airbag device comprising an inboard side and an outboard side wherein a seam thread S11, S12 attaches the two sides. Based on the teachings of Ono, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the airbag of Olson to have a seam thread connecting an inboard side and outboard side to improve the production of the airbag.

With respect to claim 6, Olson teaches the inflatable bag coupled to a vehicle door.

Olson teaches the claimed invention except for a tether. Ono teaches an airbag configuration for a side airbag device comprising tethers 26. Based on the teachings of Ono, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the airbag of Olson to have tethers to control the airbag upon inflation.

With respect to claims 9-13, discloses the claimed invention except for a second plurality of tethers. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the airbag of Olson to have a second plurality of tethers, since it has been held that mere duplication of the essential working parts of a device involves only routine skill in the art.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
